If your looking for a truck camper to handle a variety of camping needs, look no further than Ranger.

FEATURES GALORE

A complete photo album would be required to fully display the many features and innovations of Ranger and Sport Truck Campers. Here are just a few of the many features available from Coachmen.

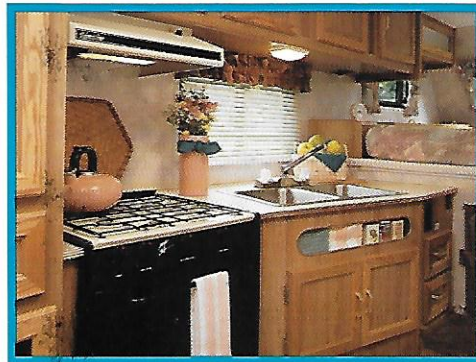

Ranger and Sport both have increased visibility with the addition of the large lower window on rear entry doors.

Ranger models feature enclosed and heated tanks and systems as well as basement storage.

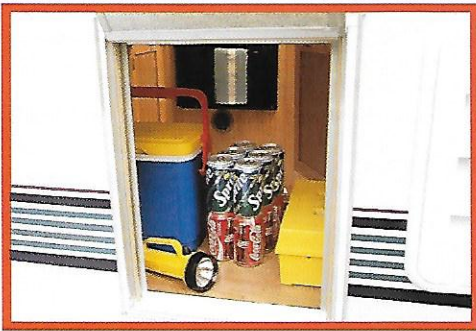

This one-piece molded fiberglass "wet" bathroom is available on many Ranger floorplans.

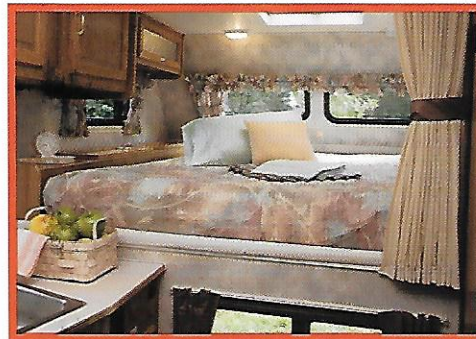

Mealtime is no problem in Coachmen's well equipped galleys. Most all floorplans feature a high-output, three burner range top. Shown here with an optional oven.

A swing down bumper step is standard on all Ranger rear-entry floorplans. The bumper also can be used for storage.

This handy storage cabinet on the Ranger is accessible from both outside and inside the camper. The space can also be used to store a portable generator.

All Ranger floorplans and most Sport models have queen size beds for a good night's sleep.

The optional hide-a-bed, swing-down bunk adds to your camper's sleeping capacity.

WHAT YOU CAN'T SEE USUALLY COUNTS THE MOST.

Coachmen believes its owners are entitled to quality and sturdy construction even if it's hidden from view. Hidden quality does cost more, and the uneducated buyer may not always understand the difference. But, those differences can be critical to long-term satisfaction and future resale value.

"Hidden" quality features from Coachmen include:

• Structurwood® Floor

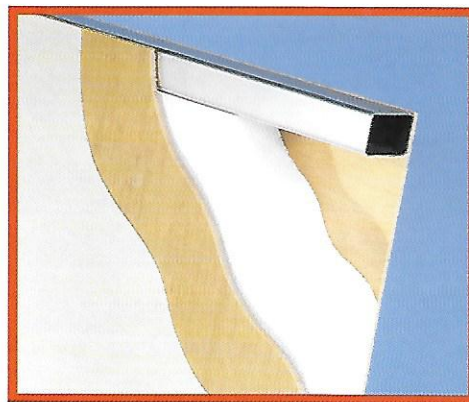

Consistent with residential construction, Coachmen uses Structurwood for its flooring, which is proven to be 10% stronger, and resists water absorption far better than plywood.

• Steel Floor System

Ranger truck campers are built on welded, tubular steel frames. Luan is laminated above and below with a thick packing of polystyrene foam insulation sandwiched between. This system provides superior strength and durability.

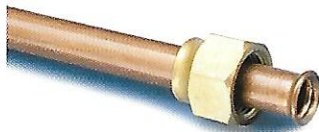

• Darco Liner

Underneath all Coachmen truck campers you will find a one-piece Darco Liner. This rugged fiber-laminated polypropylene material is highly resistant to punctures and solvents. Don't be fooled by less-expensive, look-alike materials used by other brands, which offer inferior protection.

• Laminated Construction

All Ranger truck campers feature fully laminated wall and roof construction. A strong welded, tubular aluminum frame is used, along with Luan sheets and polystyrene foam insulation. Seamless smooth fiberglass is laminated to the outerwall while attractive decorator wall board is used on the interior. A seamless piece of rubber is used as the exterior surface covering the roof. This integrated system provides unmatched strength and long term performance.

• All Copper LP Lines

Coachmen uses only heavy-duty copper tubing for our LP gas lines. Many brands use copper at the appliances and then switch to a much less expensive black steel pipe.) For a tight seal, the copper tubing has a double flare at each joint. Copper is much safer to use because it protects against corrosion and resulting leaks.
